Read an Excerpt

"I remember the day I was diagnosed with breast cancer like it was yesterday. I was sitting in the doctor's office, and the doctor was looking at me with a mixture of pity and concern.

'I'm sorry to tell you this,' he said, 'but you have breast cancer.'

The words hit me like a ton of bricks. I felt like I couldn't breathe. I wanted to cry, but I couldn't. I just sat there in shock.

The doctor went on to explain that I had stage 2 breast cancer. This meant that the cancer had spread to my lymph nodes. The doctor said that I would need to start treatment right away.

I was scared. I didn't know what to do. I didn't know if I was going to die.

The doctor saw the fear in my eyes. He put his hand on my shoulder and said, 'We're going to get through this together.'

Those words gave me hope. I knew that I wasn't going to face this alone.

I started treatment the next day. I had chemotherapy, radiation therapy, and a double mastectomy. The treatment was tough, but I made it through.

I'm cancer-free now, and I'm living my life to the fullest. I'm grateful for every day that I have.

I wrote this book to share my story with others who are facing breast cancer. I want to let them know that they're not alone, and that they can get through this.

I wrote this book to give hope to others. I hope that my story will inspire others to never give up, no matter what challenges they face."
